Sir:

The Office Mailed a Notice of Allowance on September 22, 2005, allowing all of the pending claims 1-41. The due date for paying the Issue Fee is December 22, 2005. This paper is being filed on October 25, 2005, therefore it is timely filed.

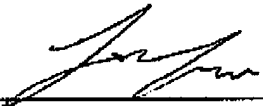

It appears that, for convenience, the Examiner has paraphrased the claimed language in the Reasons for Allowance. While the Applicants understand the Examiner's desire to use convenient phraseology, the Applicants note that the proper scope of the claims should be governed based on the express language of the claims themselves in the event there is any inconsistency (actual or perceived) between the claimed language and the Examiner's paraphrasing. Furthermore, words used in the Examiner's paraphrasing should not be construed as claim limitations if the claims themselves do not include the language referenced by the Examiner. Other references or characterizations made by the Examiner in his Reasons for Allowance that are not present in the claims are not to be construed as limitations.

Applicants agree with the Examiner that the prior art do not describe or suggest Applicants' invention as set forth in claims 1-41. Applicants respectfully assert that contrary to the Examiner assertions, it is not only the limitation of adjusting the data rate that provides novelty for the claims. But instead, each claim as a whole is allowable. See page 2-3 of the Notice of Allowance dated September 22, 2005.

The intended respective scopes of the claims are defined by the respective languages recited in the claims.

Should the Examiner have any questions, the Examiner is invited to call the undersigned attorney at the Houston, Texas telephone number (713) 934-4069.
